

the ENNEAGRAM

subtypes of any type physical - need for security and material necessities social - need for group belonging and social status connective - need for meaningful connections and experiences core emotions to overcome moves toward others - compliant moves away from others - withdrawn moves against others - assertive brings balance and stability resembles during stress